Incident Summary: On December 24, 2021, Washington State Patrol reported that a semi-truck that went off road into a roadside wetland. An estimated 50 gallons of diesel fuel had spilled to the wetland before being removed by tow trucks. By the time Ecology responders arrived the scene was clear except for a pool of diesel fuel in the wetland. Responders deployed sorbents to collect the diesel fuel. Ecology is coordinating additional cleanup with the trucking company.
