Incident Summary: On February 22, 2022, the P/C Kokua became stranded at President Point. The Kokua apparently drifted from its anchored location in Appletree Cove due to strong northerly winds. As the tide went out, the vessel would tip over and spill oil. Ecology and the USCG responded, and Ecology worked with the WDNR Derelict Vessel Program to remove the vessel from the beach. Based on oil recovery data provided by Global Diving and Salvage, an estimated 69 gallons of oil was recovered from the Puget Sound. As much as 100 gallons of diesel fuel was aboard the vessel at the time of the grounding. On March 7, 2022, Global Diving and Salvage brought in a crane barge to dismantle the Kokua in place.
