1	The PUD wants collaboration from Ecology and WDFW personnel familiar with fish/aquatic issues and the Jackson Project to serve on the Aquatic Resource Committee (ARC). Unfortunately, Ecology has not assigned a staff person to the Jackson Project ARC since Jim Pacheco left. WDFW, while responsive, is not as collaborative with the ARC as other members with fish/aquatic resource expertise. Having well-appointed staff at these meetings is crucial for timely and proactive collaboration.	4/6/2023 11:29 AM

1	While WDFW provides a representative for the ARC, resources would be better served by having experts participate on resource specific committees. (Terrestrial experts on terrestrial committees, fish/aquatic experts on fish/aquatic committees). Additionally, be sure to consider other ARC members' input into your decision making, and use data specific to the Project at hand. If outside expertise is needed to make comments or provide input, then that expert needs to be familiar with the Project and specific data.	4/6/2023 11:36 AM
